

GLADYS V. RANGE

P.O. BOX 10597, Silver Spring, MD 20914 • 301-622-3329 • 301-633-2993
gladysrange@gvrsystemsautomation.com

Main Areas of Expertise: Corporate Strategy and Knowledge Leadership, for Genomics, Chemical, Bio-Pharmaceutical, R&D and clinical e-solutions, infrastructure, and systems integration.

Project Management from Strategy to Implementation. R&D, CRM Laboratory environment content and records management, Business Requirement Specifications acquisition and analysis, functional/user requirements.

Knowledge Management Focus:

Program/Project Leadership in R&D global environments. Formulate business case report, Knowledge Management (KM) business requirements, and recommendations for infrastructure, e-solutions integration. Promote collaborative research, communities of practice, supporting tools and training to key organization KM practitioners, their information and technical resources.

Bio: Gladys V. Range founder of GVR Systems Automation, Inc of Silver Spring, MD, an engineer with extensive leadership and project management experience in the areas of content management, system, scientific instrumentation and process automation for several private and government industry sectors.

Gladys specializes in providing corporate business organization through process analysis, real time-visualization, R&D and clinical test laboratory solutions to individuals, laboratories and corporations seeking to enhance and automate methodology used in Scientific, Medical, Biogenetical, Pharmaceutical, Life Sciences, Research and Drug Development Processes.

She uses engineering project management and KM practice, in systems and process analysis, to audit, optimize and deliver a streamlined process enhancing regulatory compliance, protecting intellectual knowledge,

GLADYS V. RANGE

P.O. BOX 10597, Silver Spring, MD 20914 • 301-622-3329 • 301-633-2993
gladysrange@gvrssystemautomation.com

promoting collaborative research and increasing productivity. She works with corporate support and guidance using best business practices, to empower and align organization's business goals.

Gladys Range has held positions with Baxter International, Pacific Scientific, BioVeris, The Institute for Genomic Research (TIGR), and HGSI. She recently led a US Army CRM Laboratory Information Management System (LIMS) project in Thailand supporting clinical research activities related to emerging diseases and vaccination.

Gladys studied Mechanical Engineering at Montgomery College and University of Maryland University College.

She has received DIA (Drug Information Association) IT, project management and leadership training, and completed US Army IT Systems Validation and Defense Acquisition Program training. Most recently she completed an International Knowledge Management certification program in Basel Switzerland.

Contact Details:

E-Mail: gladysrange@gvrssystemautomation.com

URL: <http://www.gvrssystemautomation.com>

Phone: 1- 301-622-3329